Hi Councilwoman Flemister-

I wanted to follow-up on our meeting of October 30 with an update, as you requested. At this time, I do not have much in the way of new information to report.

- 1) We continue to negotiate with Cascade Natural Gas related to site investigation work. There are a few lingering issues that we continue to work through and I'm hopeful we will be able to complete our negotiations and put together a final agreement soon.
- 2) We have contacted the Kitsap Public Health District about the missing warning sign(s) on the beach below the former gasworks site. They indicated that they would be contacting Cascade about putting a new sign (or signs) up. We are working with them on the message that will be on the signs.
- 3) We have checked with the Department of Natural Resources about the status of the proposal to remove the submarine ballast tanks from the beach. Apparently, the company that is interested in doing this work was provided guidance on how to permit such an activity in September. DNR has not heard back and was not sure about when (or if) of this activity would take place.
- 4) We are working on our Community Involvement Plan for the site, using input we received from the citizens we met with in September and from the City. We have taken that input and are developing our initial involvement strategy. We plan on sharing a draft version of the plan with key stakeholders, including the City. Right now we are hoping to have a draft version available for review sometime in the early part of 2013.

Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.
Happy Holidays!
